

Maritime Patrol Association 2022 Symposium Guide

We are honored by the support and enthusiasm that our MPA members and sponsors have brought to this organization, enabling us to host the Tenth MPA Symposium! It all started with the Centennial of Naval Aviation celebration on board NAS Jacksonville in the spring of 2011....the huge success of that week-long event launched the interest and resources that have brought MPA this far...THANK YOU for your support and welcome to the 2022 MPA Symposium!

Don't forget, TRANSPORTATION will be provided on May 11th to and from Hangar 117 for the Heritage Dinner AND then again on May 13th to and from the O'Club for the Flight Suit Social!!! The Shuttle Bus pick up point is at the USO parking lot across from the base pass and tag office (the Yorktown gate)

2022 Hall of Honor Inductees

The following inductee will be celebrated at the Heritage Dinner on Wednesday, May 11th:

Rear Admiral Maness

United States Navy

Rear Admiral Maness was born in Long Beach, CA on 13 April 1940. He attended the United States Naval Academy, earning his commission as an Ensign in June 1962. His first operational tour was with Patrol Squadron NINE at Moffett Field, CA, where he participated in the first deployments of the P-3A aircraft to the Western Pacific. Rear Admiral Maness subsequently served as a department head in Patrol Squadron FORTY, the Wing Operations Officer for Patrol Wing TWO in Barbers Point, HI, and the executive and commanding officer of Patrol Squadron SIX.

In June 1984, Rear Admiral Maness reported as Commander, Patrol and Reconnaissance Force Seventh Fleet/Commander Patrol Wing ONE/Commander Task Force 72 (CTF 72) at Kami Seya, Japan. It was during this tour that he developed an analytical approach to ASW search tactics based on combining specific platform capabilities (air, surface, submarine) to maximize an overall probability of detection. His innovative multi-platform search techniques were directly responsible for numerous successful prosecutions of Soviet submarines in the SEVENTH fleet AOR at the height of the Cold War.

From August 1988 to October 1989, Rear Admiral Maness served as Executive Assistant to the Chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff. Selected for flag rank, he assumed responsibilities as Director for Total Force Training and Education Policy in the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations. With the end of the Cold War and while fully recognizing the key role the community played in the Anti-Submarine Warfare (ASW) arena, he championed other platform technologies and competencies including Anti-Surface Warfare and Intelligence, Surveillance, and Reconnaissance (ISR), while also bringing attention to the threat posed by Third World diesel submarines and the resulting need for littoral ASW capabilities.

In August 1990, Rear Admiral Maness assumed duties as Commander, Patrol Wings U.S. Pacific Fleet. During Operations Desert Shield and Desert Storm, he ensured maritime patrol aircraft were the first U.S.

augment forces to arrive in the Persian Gulf theater, just two days after Iraq invaded Kuwait, and that those forces immediately initiated surveillance of the Gulf and its approaches.
